DÉFINITION : "[A]n organization composed of all the teachers employed by a board who are members of the same affiliate."

CONTEXTE : "Accreditation can be applied at either of two levels: the institution as a whole, or specialized programs within an institution. As Larson (1983) noted, the quality of programs within an institution is invariably uneven, and low quality programs may benefit from the lofty reputation of its institution [...]. Thus, there is a need to accredit programs as well as institutions, especially when the graduates of programs are likely to impact on the health, safety, or welfare of the public."
